
Continuing Education

Functions

The California State University regards the credit-bearing programs offered through Extended Education as integral parts of the institution. These programs are viewed as extensions of the institution's educational services and are in concert with the institution's overall mission and purpose. The programs and courses in Extended Education are expected to meet the standards of quality that the institution sets for its other programs and courses, with regard to resources, faculty, level of instruction, evaluation, and support services.

The College of Extended Studies at San Diego State University serves as the principal University liaison with the adult community and provides a wide variety of traditional and nontraditional, credit and noncredit, educational experiences designed to fit the life style and expectations of lifelong learners. In addition, it provides a range of academic and special programs for students and groups during the summer months, in the evenings, and between semesters. Under the direction of the Dean of the College, programs are developed and carried out within four divisions: Special Sessions and Extension, Professional Development, American Language Institute, and Administrative Services. The majority of the programs are operated on a self-support basis since state funds are not provided for Continuing Education activities.

Limitations on Open University and Special Sessions Credit

Not more than nine units of combined coursework in Open University and special sessions completed prior to admission to an advanced degree or an advanced certificate program will be acceptable on a program of study. Admission to an advanced program requires formal admission to the University and enrollment in at least one course offered in the regular semester for which the student was admitted, a recommendation of the graduate adviser of the particular program, and the approval of the Dean of the Graduate Division. Once matriculated, students may take additional courses in Open University to meet degree or certificate requirements only with the prior permission of the Dean of the Graduate Division.

Open University

Most regular on-campus courses are open to students through enrollment in Open University. Open University courses earn matriculated resident credit and enrollment for students not seeking an advanced degree or advanced certificate and does not require formal admission to the University. Enrollment in courses through Open University is on a space available basis with the consent of the instructor and approval of the chair of the department in which the course is offered. Students pay College of Extended Studies fees for these units. The course repeat policy applies to courses repeated through Open University. Consult the College of Extended Studies or the current Class Schedule for complete details on Open University qualifications and registration procedures. A maximum of 24 units earned through Open University, Extension, and credit-by-examination combined may be used toward total units required for the bachelor's degree.

Open University classes may not be taken by the following:

1. Nonmatriculated foreign students (nonresidents from non-English-speaking countries) with a score of less than 550 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or its equivalent.
2. Foreign students with I-20 visas from another university.
3. SDSU matriculated students.

American Language Institute (ALI)

The American Language Institute offers noncredit intensive (20-25 hours per week) English programs throughout the year to students and professionals interested in improving their English proficiency. By enrolling in the ALI, students may take advantage of a program called conditional acceptance. Conditional acceptance is available to those students who require admission, or proof of eligibility for admission, to a university in order to obtain a passport, a U.S. Visa, or government sponsorship. It is offered to students who do not have an adequate command of English or the required TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score to qualify for admission to the University. After transcripts of their academic work have been evaluated by SDSU staff, students may receive an official letter of conditional admission which states that the student has met all University requirements except English language proficiency and may enter the University after training at the American Language Institute and achieving appropriate TOEFL scores.

Programs offered by ALI are as follows:

In addition, students may choose from over 30 elective course offerings. Students may also specialize in Pre-MBA preparation.

Highly advanced students may register for three to twelve units of SDSU courses in addition to their English classes.

Intensive English Communications

Extension

In order to meet the needs of the adult community as well as matriculated students, the College provides a variety of extension courses, workshops, and Open University. For the convenience of adult students most courses are scheduled in the evenings or on weekends, on campus or at convenient learning extension centers throughout the service area.

Extension Courses

Extension courses are offered each semester in a number of areas including education, business administration, public administration, and the arts and sciences. Many courses and programs are developed in cooperation with off-campus organizations and groups who have identified specific needs. Many one-unit weekend workshops are also offered throughout the year. These courses are listed in a special Extended Studies Catalog published three times a year.

There is no limit on the total number of extension units for which a student may enroll; however, a maximum of 24 units earned through Open University, Extension, and credit-by-examination combined may be used toward total units required for the bachelor's degree. Extension work is considered the same as transfer credit and is not included in the student's San Diego State University scholastic average.

Professional Development On-line (PDOL)

Meeting the needs of our students, the College of Extended Studies has developed a wide offering of professional development courses that can be completed on the Internet. Programs are available in almost every typical business area from broader categories such as leadership, finance, and managing teams, to more specific skill acquisition programs such as implementing ISO 9000:2000 and creating powerful presentations. These on-line programs typically consist of five to ten courses, and can be completed at the student's own pace.

Seminars and Workshops

The Division coordinates practical one- to five-day seminars and workshops aimed at increasing the skills of the business professional. These seminars are taught by local and national seminar leaders chosen from the business and academic worlds for their expertise and outstanding teaching ability. Topics addressed cover a wide range of business subjects, such as leadership, finance, marketing, manufacturing, quality issues, and customer service issues related to global competitiveness.

Corporate Partnerships: Professional Development

Professional Development offers membership benefits to companies joining at the Presidential, Director, and Associate levels. Representatives from member companies sit on advisory boards and play an active role in designing and selecting training courses and instructors. In addition, the annual membership enables the company to get more training for its training dollars. A third benefit to members is the networking opportunities that develop through association with other companies with similar training needs.
